

Testing held up as site floods

Monday 25 August 2025.

One of the Geo-technical vehicles was unable to access the site today due to the volume of groundwater. There is still core drilling going on near Optus Stadium. The area in the centre of this photograph has no activity at all. It has been suggested that maybe the technicians have gone off to obtain wet suits ready for underwater exploration.