A few suggestions

J.B. Lord asks if anyone would like to list programs they would like to see cut to reduce inflation. I would.

Here are a few.

- The wanton destruction of parkland at Burswood.
- The racetrack at Burswood that nobody wants.
- The rugby team in an AFL State.
- The ruination of Matilda Bay to provide a ferry service that blind Freddy could see won't work.
- The millions being put into amalgamating our universities.

And here is my personal favourite. Lara Daley, from the University of Newcastle, was last year awarded a grant of $528,491 to design Aboriginal smoking ceremonies and Welcome to Country rituals for astronauts to perform on Mars.

So, mortgage holders, next time your rate goes up and you are battling to feed your kids, you are paying the price for reckless government spending.
