

Cook & Co just don't give a fig

First it was licensed shooters who were confronted by draconian legislation which made it impossible for some to comply with, thus compelling them to surrender their legally held firearms or face having them seized.

Next it was fishermen who are having their livelihood taken from them with little consultation or compensation. Both these actions were backed up by the Greens who are based in the city and know little about the issues involved.

It seems anyone who has a firearm is a potential murderer and all fishermen just plunder the ocean. It looks like we are going to have a racetrack in the centre of the city that most people do not want and a proposed NRL team that has little support.

I am wondering what can be next. Perhaps everyone over 70 is going to have their driver's licence cancelled and be required to have a re-test. Maybe drivers over 70 are a danger to society. This Government seems to have the numbers to do what they like.
