

Track anger won't relent

Was there ever a less-loved government project? For more than a year, the Burswood racetrack has been lambasted in the media, the letters pages of this newspaper and by the Opposition. It has come to symbolise all that is wrong with the Cook Government's spending priorities.

Today — Valentine's Day — opponents of the Burswood racetrack will rally ahead of the AFL Origin game at Optus Stadium, handing out thousands of flyers urging continued defiance of the project as destruction of the park begins.

Roger Cook and Rita Saffioti, you are wrong if you think our anger will diminish. You may well come to rue the day you fell for V8 Supercars' pitch.
