Won't be enough

I read that the State Government is going to spend almost $60 million on WA country roads. Big deal. It is easy to see were the votes are in our State. Once again the bush is being treated like second-class citizens. Our country roads need hundreds of millions, not just a paltry sum.

A racetrack without a business case is to get nearly three times as much as country roads. Roger Cook, you can't eat or mine racetracks.

Max J. Heath, Toodyay