

Sacred solution?

In regard to the Rita Saffioti's speedway precinct, I would like to know why there is not a single "sacred site" anywhere close by.

Surely there must have been something happening close to here as it is by the Derbarl Yerrigan. In days gone by there must have been habitation of some kind.

So speak up and get this stupid idea out of the way before she wastes more money.

Parks make reputations

A thought for our tin-eared twosome. There are cities around the world renowned for their parks and open spaces. I can't think of any renowned for its racetrack.

Time for you to think again.
